The applicant is a shroff in the Bangalore Taluk and appears to be genuinely anxious to dispose of his property in the way proposed as he is without issue. He is yet strong and healthy and may be in a position to look after the charity for a long time to come.

Though the rules are styled charitable deposit rules, yet deposits for religious uses have always been accepted under them. The point was definitely raised in connection with Tulasi Thottam Krishnaswami temple and decided in favour of acceptance. As the purpose for which the income is to be utilized will be of public benefit the case may be treated as a special one and the higher rate of interest may be granted hereafter.

1. Your petitioner is a shroff, residing in - Nagarthapet, Bangalore City. He has no wife, children, brothers or next of kin. No one depends upon him for support and he is alone in the world.

2. Your petitioner has, out of his hard earnings saved a sum of Rs. 12,000/- which he wants to utilise - for the worship of Gods and he is anxious to make suitable permanant arrangement for the purpose.

3. Your petitioner wishes to inveat the said amount with Government under the charitable endowment rules for the benifit of the three under mentioned temples at Rs. 4,000/- for each temple and to utilise the interest for - the due performance of the services indicated. He immediately presents Rs. 3,000/- and add on from time to time in even thousands as the moneys are realized for the -- business in which they are now invested.

4. During the life time of your petitioner. he may be permitted to draw the said interest annually and utilize the same for the conduct of the services mentioned; that that after his death, the same may be permitted to be conducted by the person or persons whom he may appoint in that behalf at his death under the general supervision of the Muzarai Department.

5. Your petitioner begs to reserve the right during his life time to add to or substitute other objects for the utilization of the funds but with the restriction that the allotment of funds to the temples in question will remain unchanged.

6. Your petitioner prays that in view of the fact that the Government have been pleased to increase the Savings Bank rate of interest to 5% the amount to be presented by the petitioner may be allowed to remain as Savings Bank deposit so long as the present condition lasts unless the Government are pleased to allow that interest at least for the time being to deposits made under the permanant deposit rules.

I beg to remain,
Respected Sir,
Your most obedient Servant,
